

Victims' families plead for Fetal Homicide Bill

Written by Lauren Ohnesorge
Tuesday, 10 July 2007 20:00

A bill that would make it a separate crime to kill an unborn baby met impassioned support from victims' relatives yesterday in Raleigh.

Families of two women who died while pregnant urged lawmakers to readdress the measure. Both the House bill, sponsored by Trudy Walend, and the Senate bill, sponsored by Andrew Brock, are currently in committee.