

2nd 105 Controlled Burn

Written by Lauren Ohnesorge
Tuesday, 24 July 2007 20:03

Flames shot out of the windows of a white house at the end of the 105 Extension in Boone last night- but passers-by had little to fear.

It was another controlled burn. Boone Fire Department burned and reburned the structure to practice firefighting techniques that could save lives. In the event of a real fire, these experiences can only help, firefighter Captain Mike Teague said earlier this week.