

William Jack Richardson

Written by Noah Lockamy
Sunday, 10 March 2013 20:35

Mr. William Jack Richardson, age 88, of Stanberry Road, Boone, passed away Saturday evening March 2, 2013 at Watauga Medical Center.

Born January 13, 1925 in Johnson City, Tennessee, he was a son of the late Addie Mae Watson and Dwight Stanberry. Mr. Richardson was a real estate broker in Florida for a number of years. Jack was the owner and operator of the Wildcat Flea Market which he built in 1972.

He is survived by his wife of 63 years; Elaine Richardson, one daughter; Kathy Rudisill and her husband Dr. Elbert A. Rudisill, Jr., of Hickory, two sons; Keith Richardson and wife Roseann of Fleetwood, and Kevin Richardson and wife Lisa of Boone, and five grandchildren; Corey Richardson, Jason Grimes, Craig Richardson Alexas Jones and Lindsey Nardi.

Memorial services for Mr. William Jack Richardson will be conducted Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock at Austin & Barnes Funeral Home Chapel. Officiating will be Father Dave Brzoska.

In lieu of flowers memorials may be made to St. Elizabeth Catholic Church, 259 Pilgrims Way, Boone, NC 28607. Online condolences may be shared with the Richardson family at www.austinandbarnesfuneralhome.com

Austin & Barnes Funeral Home and Crematory is serving the Richardson family.