Relief pitcher Taylor Miller of Appalachian State University has been named the Southern Conference Pitcher of the Week for the week of April 18-24.

It's also the fourth week in a row, that an ASU pitcher has won the award. Miller made three appearances last week, he went 1-0 with a pair of saves. He did not allow a run in 5 2/3 innings of work and retired all 17 men he faced.

Miller also struck out a career-high eight men (of the ten he faced) last Thursday against Davidson. For the year, Miller is 2-1 with a 4.76 earned-run-average. He's made 18 appearances this season and he's given up 12 earned runs in 22 2/3 innings of work. He has nine saves, and he's only walked nine men with 31 strike outs.

The Mountaineers travel to Radford on Tuesday. They return home to play North Carolina A&T on Wednesday. Our coverage begins at 5:40 pm on AM 1450, WATA.
