

Styers Competes At Nationals

Written by Mike Kelly
Thursday, 09 June 2011 13:20

Malcom Styers will represent Appalachian State University at the Track & Field National Championships this weekend in Des Moines, Ia.

Styers, the Most Outstanding Field Performer in the Southern Conference this spring, will be competing in the hammer throw event. He was the SoCon champion in the hammer throw tthis season, and he tied for 11th at the East Regional championships, which qualified him for nationals.

Styers, who is competing today, had an effort 201 feet, eight inches at regionals. There will be two flights and a random draw in the opening round of competition. The top nine finishers will then advance, following any tied breakers, to the finals. Competition begins at 4 pm EDT Thursday afternoon at Drake Stadium.