A man died after his car became stuck on a bridge late Saturday just out of Blowing Rock. The accident occurred on Bill's Lane off Blackberry Road, when a vehicle became hung up on a bridge. The driver reportedly stepped out, not aware that he was not stepping on bridge structure, and fell into the water. It was not clear whether the man drowned or suffered other injuries in the fall, the matter under investigation of the Caldwell Sheriff's Department, as the State Patrol determined that it was not a motor vehicle death. Blowing Rock Rescue responded to the scene.
