Providence baseball coach Danny Hignight is one of four coaches selected to coach the USA 14-and-under National Team at the PanAM Games in Venezuela, August 10-22.

Hignight, who graduated from Appalachian State University, was an assistant coach for Watauga High baseball coach Pete Hardee in the late 1990's. Tryouts for the national team are being held in Cary, NC. There are 40 players attending the tryouts. The roster will be trimmed down to 18 players for the PanAM Games.
