Lees-McRae College senior Megan Epperson (St. John, Ind.) has been named the Conference Carolinas Player of the Week for the first time in her career, announced league officials Tuesday.

Epperson led the Bobcats (10-6, 6-0 CC) to a trio of conference wins last week, averaging 4.60 kills per set while posting a .279 hitting percentage. The senior outside hitter opened the week with 12 kills against Erskine before exploding against North Greenville on Friday, tallying a season-high 20 kills in just three sets. Epperson then closed out the week with 14 kills in a three-set sweep of King.

A native of St. John, Ind., Epperson is currently first on the team and third in the conference with an average of 3.58 kills per set this season. She is also ranked 62nd in the nation in kills per set, and 65th in points per frame (4.11).

Lees-McRae returns to the court on Friday when the Bobcats travel to Raleigh, N.C. to take on St. Augustine's College at 6 p.m.
