The Lees-McRae College men's soccer program will once again host its Winter Soccer Skills Clinics beginning this upcoming January, offering six nights of instruction for kids aged five to 14, announced head coach Lee Squires Tuesday.

The clinics will be held in the Student Recreation Center, which is located on the Lees-McRae campus behind Banner Elk Presbyterian Church. Two sessions per evening will be held on Monday and Wednesday nights from January 23 to February 8, with instruction for kids aged five to eight taking place from 5 p.m. to 6 p.m., followed by a session from 6 p.m. to 7 p.m. for kids aged nine to 14. Each child will receive specialized individual instruction, with an emphasis on technical ability. The clinics are available at a cost of $45 per child for all six sessions.
