

Dellinger Signs With Catawba

Written by Staff Reports

Sunday, 18 December 2011 08:15

---

Avery High senior Savannah Dellinger signed her National Letter of Intent to play volleyball at Catawba Valley Community College next fall. Catawba Valley Community College is a junior college located in Hickory, NC.

Dellinger is a four-year varsity starter and two-time All-Western Highlands Conference selection for the Vikings. She is also a three-year varsity player and the starting point guard on Avery's basketball team. She was a first-team all-conference selection last season for the Vikings in basketball on a team that was 22-6.

Dellinger has also played club volleyball with Colby Combs, Anna Church, Bailey Hagaman and Channing Hagaman. Dellinger, a Crossnore native, will pursue a BSN Nursing Degree at Catawba College.