

ASU Football Fund Golf Tournament Set for May 11

Written by Mike Flynn
Friday, 09 March 2012 08:00

The Appalachian State University Foundation will hold its sixth-annual ASU Football Fund golf tournament on Friday, May 11 at historic Linville Golf Club. Cost is $400 per golfer ($2,000 per five-player team) and includes:

- Thursday night reception with head coach Jerry Moore and his staff at the Courtyard by Marriott in Boone
- round of golf on one of the most highly regarded courses in North Carolina, an 18-hole championship layout designed by Donald Ross in 1924
- a group featuring a Mountaineer coach or current/former player
- embroidered ASU football apparel
- sleeve of championship golf balls
- beverages and snacks on the course
- range balls
- meal and awards following golf

The tournament has become one of Appalachian athletics' most anticipated events of the year but space is limited and likely to sell out quickly. To register, call the ASU football office at (828) 262-2501 or visit GoASU.com.