

Pee Wee Football Day Set for Sept. 15

Written by ASU Sports Information
Monday, 13 August 2012 18:42

Appalachian State University football will hosts its annual Pee Wee Day in conjunction with its Sept. 15 game versus The Citadel at Kidd Brewer Stadium. Pee Wee Day is open to all youth football teams through eighth grade and includes free tickets for team members and coaches (up to three coaches per team) and discounted tickets for players' and coaches' families ($22 for adults, $12 for children ages 3-12). All tickets will be located in the general-admission grass section of Kidd Brewer Stadium.

Other Pee Way Day festivities include a pregame pep talk and autograph session with former Mountaineer football stars in-game recognition on the Kidd Brewer Stadium videoboard. To participate in Pee Wee Day, coaches/team parents must download the coaches' instructions, order form and tally sheet at the top of this page. Important dates to remember are:

Thursday, Sept. 6: players must submit order forms to coaches

Monday, Sept. 10: Appalachian State ticket office must receive completed tally sheets and order forms from coaches

Thursday, Sept. 13: Appalachian State sports marketing will email instructions and itineraries to participating teams

For more information, contact assistant athletics director Samantha Stevens at (828) 262-6554 or stevenssm@appstate.edu .