The San Francisco Giants have hired former T.C. Roberson baseball coach Donnie Suttles to be a territorial scout for North Carolina, South Carolina and parts of Virginia and West Virginia. Suttles, a McDowell graduate, continued his career at Western Carolina University. He also played professionally in the Cleveland Indians organization.

He was 78-27 during his four-year stay with the Rams, and he led them to the Class 4-A Western Regional championship series in 2010. Suttles spent the past two years as an assistant coach at Tennessee Tech.
