

Kimbrough Named October Athlete Of Month

Written by Phil Perry

Tuesday, 06 November 2012 12:28

Senior linebacker Jeremy Kimbrough of Appalachian State, has been named the Southern Conference October Defensive Player of the Month in football.

Kimbrough had at least nine tackles in all four of the Moutaineers' October games, totaling 43 for an average of 10.75 per game. The Decatur, Ga., senior added four tackles for loss, 3.5 sacks and an interception over the course of the month. Kimbrough made 15 stops versus Wofford on Oct. 20 and recorded career highs with three sacks and 3.5 tackles for loss at Western Carolina on Oct. 27.

Other nominees were Jonathan Spain (Elon), John Stevenson (Georgia Southern), Jaquiski Tartt (Samford), Davis Tull (Chattanooga) and Alvin Scioneaux (Wofford).

Southern Conference October Athletes of the Month

Football – Offense

Aaron Mellette, Elon

Football – Defense

Jeremy Kimbrough, Appalachian State

Men's Cross Country

Paul Chelimo, UNCG

Women's Cross Country

Lauren D'Alessio, Samford

Men's Soccer

Chris Thomas, Elon

Women's Soccer

Jamie Simmons, UNCG

Volleyball – Offense

Chandler Ambrester, Furman

Volleyball – Defense

Celia Rose Eddy, Elon

Kimbrough Named October Athlete Of Month

Written by Phil Perry

Tuesday, 06 November 2012 12:28

Photo Courtesy: Jeremy Kimbrough, ASU Athletics