Grayson Wells, a red-shirt freshman at Lenior-Rhyne University, finished the season as one of the Bears top receivers with ten receptions for 217 yards and two touchdowns. Wells, who played football and basketball at Ashe County, had his best game of the season against Carson-Newman on September 15. He caught four passes for 102 yards in a 47-23 loss.

The Bears (9-3), who made the Division II playoffs for the first time in 50 years, lost to Carson-Newman in the second-round.
