

ASU Has 22 Student-Athletes Receive Degrees

Written by Mike Flynn

Tuesday, 18 December 2012 09:51

Twenty-two student-athletes received degrees during Sunday's winter commencement ceremonies at Appalachian State University on Sunday. Twenty student-athletes received their undergraduate diplomas while two — women's track and field's Kiara Crutchfield and baseball's David Port — earned master's degrees. Appalachian State's baseball and football programs led the way with five fall graduates apiece.

APPALACHIAN STATE ATHLETICS' FALL 2012 GRADUATES

Baseball

Jeremy Dowdy (business management)

Will Helms (communication studies)

Trey Holmes (health promotion)

David Port (educational media)*

Ryan Waldrep (elementary education)

Men's Basketball

Jacob Lail (history education)

ASU Has 22 Student-Athletes Receive Degrees

Written by Mike Flynn

Tuesday, 18 December 2012 09:51

Women's Basketball

Courtney Freeman (health care management)

Football

Karl Anderson (electronic media/broadcasting)

Nic Canepa (criminal justice)

Rod Chisholm (communication studies)

Sam Martin (marketing)

Jonathan Shively (marketing)

Women's Golf

Samantha Patton (chemistry)

Brittany Zachrich (health promotion)

Men's Track and Field

Darrius Purcell (communication studies)

Dennis Moore (architectural design)

Women's Track and Field

Kiara Crutchfield (higher education)*

ASU Has 22 Student-Athletes Receive Degrees

Written by Mike Flynn

Tuesday, 18 December 2012 09:51

Nadia Crutchfield (electronic media/broadcasting)

Men's Tennis

Alain Humblet (biology, pre-professional)

Women's Tennis

Kim-Lea Dinh (international business)

Men's Soccer

Ryan Duffy (biology, pre-professional)

Women's Soccer

Sydney Hill (graphic arts and imaging technology)

* master's degree