Hickory High's boys basketball team made its way back to the championship game of the Catawba Valley Classic by knocking off St. Stephens 52-45 in the semifinals Friday night. The Red Tornadoes, who are looking for their 12th championship in this tournament, also handed St. Stephens (10-1) its first loss of the year. Hickory (8-2) will face No. 5 Newton-Conover (3-6) at 8:30 p.m. tonight at CVCC. The Red Devils upset top-seeded Fred T. Foard 55-42 in Friday's other semifinal game to reach the finals. Davonte Fuller led the Red Tornadoes with 17 points; Zach Jarrett had 12. Kerrigan Farley led St. Stephens with 11 points.

It will be a battle of unbeaten teams in the girls title game. Hickory (10-0) takes on Alexander Central (12-0) in the championship game. Hickory reached the finals by blasting Fred T. Foard, 71-46; Alexander Central knocked off Newton-Conover, 62-55.

Erick Troutman led Hickory with 23 points; Marie Ritchie led the Cougars in their semifinal win with 25 points.
