

Jackson, Satterfield to Co-Host David Glenn Show

Written by Mike Flynn

Tuesday, 25 June 2013 15:19

Appalachian IMG Sports Network play-by-play announcer David Jackson and Appalachian State University football head coach Scott Satterfield will co-host the David Glenn Show, a popular statewide sports radio talk show, on Friday, June 28. The David Glenn Show airs daily from noon-3 p.m. on 13 stations across North Carolina (see full list below).

Jackson, the Voice of Appalachian State football, men's basketball and baseball, and Satterfield will team up in the absence of vacationing David Glenn to discuss a wide range of topics, including, of course, the Mountaineers' highly anticipated upcoming football campaign.

The duo will also welcome a number of guests for segments throughout the three-hour show.

Confirmed guests currently include Appalachian State men's basketball coach Jason Capel, former Mountaineer All-America quarterback and current Carolina Panthers wide receiver Armanti Edwards and Atlanta Braves television play-by-play announcer Chip Caray.

In addition to its 13 statewide affiliates, the David Glenn Show can also be heard online at ESPNTriangle.com.

DAVID JACKSON AND SCOTT SATTERFIELD CO-HOST THE DAVID GLENN SHOW

Friday, June 28 • Noon-3 p.m.

Black Mountain WZGM 1350 AM*

Boone WATA 1450 AM*

Burlington WSML 1200 AM

Charlotte WZGV 730 AM

Greensboro WCOG 1320 AM

Greenville WDLX 930 AM

Greenville WGHB 1250 AM

High Point WMFR 1230 AM

Lenoir WJRI 1340 AM

New Bern WNOS 1450 AM

Raleigh WCMC 99.9 FM

Roanoke Rapids WCBT 1230 AM*

Wilmington WMFD 630 AM

 carries show from 1-3 p.m.

Photo Courtesy: David Jackson, ASU Athletics