

Pinson Shining At Peach Jam

Written by Staff Reports
Friday, 12 July 2013 16:53

Greensboro's Theo Pinson, who has made a verbal commitment to attend the University of North Carolina, is still showing off his game to college coaches across the country. Pinson, a rising senior at Greensboro Wesleyan, is playing this summer with the CP3 All-Stars AAU basketball team. Pinson is averaged 18 points a game and shown off a nice shooting touch at the Peach Jam in North Augusta, S.C.

The Peach Jam is an AAU tournament that falls in the July observation period for NCAA college coaches, and North Carolina's Roy Williams, Duke's Mike Krzyzewski, Kentucky's John Calapari and a number of other high-level Division-I coaches are at the event.

Photo Courtesy: Theo Pinson, PHOTO SUBMITTED