Quarterback J.P. Caruso, a rising senior at Palm Beach Gardens High School in Florida, has made a verbal commitment to attend Appalachian State University.

Caruso is the top-rated pocket passer in Palm Beach County. He made his commitment Wednesday night. Caruso is 6-foot-1, 200 pounds. He chose the Mountaineers over Air Force, Akron, FAU and several other FBS and FCS programs. He visited Appalachian State's camp last month and plans to enroll early in January.

Caruso threw for 1,046 yards and 13 touchdowns as a junior at Gardens, helping the Gators reach the Class 8A regional quarterfinals. Using the NFL quarterback rating metric, Caruso had a 94.1 rating in 2012.

Palm Beach County is 4th largest school district in Florida and the 11th largest school district in the U.S.
