The Senior Bowl's 2014 Watch List includes more than 400 student athletes from nearly every level of college football. These are the players who we are looking to fill the 110 roster spots that form the North and South squads for the nation's premier all-star game. A player not on the initial list can be added to the watch list during the season and be invited to the 2014 game.

Among those on the list are Appalachian State University quarterback Jamal Londry-Jackson and wide receiver/kick returner Tony Washington of the Mountaineers.

Jackson was named the preseason Southern Conference Offensive Player of the Year. Jackson threw for 3,278 yards last season with 21 touchdown passes. He also ran for 328 yards and scored six TD.

Washington caught 39 passes for 472 yards and three TD in 2012. He was also ASU's top return man. He returned 23 kick-offs for 629 yards for a 27.3 average, and he returned one 99 yards for a TD against Wofford College.

There are six SoCon players on the watch list and 41 players from FCS schools. The Senior Bowl will be played January 25 in Mobile, AL. Demetrius McCray of the Mountaineers was on the Senior Bowl watch list last fall.
