In addition to being produced and carried by WSB-TV (ABC - Ch. 2) in Atlanta, the telecast for Saturday's Appalachian State-Georgia football game will also be carried nationwide on ESPN GamePlan and ESPN3.

ESPN GamePlan is ESPN's college-football pay-per-view package and is available on most cable and satellite services across the nation, as well as many areas throughout Europe, Africa and the Middle East. Check with your cable or satellite provider for availability and pricing in your area.

ESPN3, ESPN's online platform, is available in approximately 75 million homes nationwide as well as to 21 million U.S. college students and U.S.-based military personnel. ESPN3 is also available through Xbox LIVE and on smartphones, tablets and Apple TV via the WatchESPN app. Check with your internet or mobile service provider to see if you receive ESPN3 programming.

The broadcast will be blacked out on ESPN GamePlan and ESPN3 in WSB-TV's greater Atlanta viewing area.

Kickoff for the first-ever meeting between Appalachian State and Georgia is set for 12:30 p.m. Saturday at Sanford Stadium in Athens, Ga.
