Eight former Appalachian State University football standouts are currently on active National Football League rosters. Here is a look at how the former Mountaineers fared in Week 11 action:

New Orleans Saints second-year running back Travaris Cadet took a kickoff three yards deep in the Saints' endzone and returned it 82 yards to the 49ers' 21-yard line, setting up a short third-quarter touchdown drive that helped lift the Saints to a 23-20 win over San Francisco.

Newly signed third-year linebacker D.J. Smith was active for the Texans on Sunday and made one tackle on special teams in the Texans' 28-23 loss to Oakland.

Detroit Lions rookie punter/kicker Sam Martin averaged 45 yards on three punts, including a game-long of 59 yards, and sent all five of his kickoffs into the end zone for touchbacks in the Lions' 37-27 loss at Pittsburgh. Martin also recorded the first rush of his career, picking up three yards on a fake field-goal attempt.

In all, 12 former Mountaineers are currently on NFL rosters. In addition to the nine members of active 53-man rosters, second-year defensive back DeAndre Presley is a member of the Carolina Panthers practice squad, rookie running back Steven Miller is on the Detroit Lions' practice squad and rookie linebacker Jeremy Kimbrough will spend the campaign on the Washington Redskins' injured-reserve list after sustaining a season-ending shoulder injury during the preseason.
