Lees-McRae senior Evan Webb continued his impressive stretch while he was tabbed Conference Carolinas Men's Field Athlete of the Week for his performance at the Power Sox Invitational Saturday, the conference announced Wednesday morning.

Webb (Salisbury, N.C.) cruised to an individual title in the men's pole vault after clearing 4.90 meters. The mark was good to put him on the national's qualifiers list.

The senior crushed his competition while the closest finisher was nearly a meter behind him (3.95).

Webb is no stranger to success while he was tabbed CC Indoor Field Athlete of the Week twice in 2014.

LMC returns to action this weekend when it participates in the Winthrop Invitational in Rock Hill, S.C.
