In a vote of 25 sports writers across the state who cover prep athletics, senior guard Madi Story of Bandys and junior guard-forward Danasia Witherspoon of Hickory were named to the 12-player North Carolina Associated Press All-State Team.

Story received 18 votes and Witherspoon received eight votes. Story, who will attend Appalachian State University, is on the all-state team for the third consecutive year. She led Bandys (31-1) to 31 straight wins and to its seventh state title game appearance. Bandys lost to High Point-Andrews, 57-51 Andrews, by averaging Story averaged 16.8 points, 4.7 rebounds, 6.3 assists and 6.4 steals per game. She was a 61 percent shooter and she became the all-time leading female scorer at Bandys this season (2,156). The Trojans went 113-11 during her four-year stay. They also reached the Class 2A West Regionals the last four years.
