Tuesday's baseball game between Appalachian State and Wake Forest has been postponed due to heavy rain in the High Country. No makeup date has been scheduled at this time.

Appalachian State is scheduled to play its next seven games on the road, beginning this weekend with a pivotal Southern Conference series versus longtime rival Western Carolina. Game times are set for 5 p.m. Friday, 2 p.m. Saturday and 1 p.m. Sunday in Cullowhee, N.C.
