

The high country has been blessed with two outstanding baseball teams this spring.

The Watauga High baseball team continued its winning ways last night by pounding A.C. Reynolds 10-4 at Davis Field in Asheville. The Pioneers (14-5 overall; 9-1 Northwestern 4A Conference) spotted ACR a 2-0 lead in the third. But WHS came charging back with a six-run explosion in the fourth. And five of those runs scored with two outs.

Jake Wallace had a run-scoring single, Baine Martin had two-run homer, Cal Hardee and Adam Church went deep as well. Ironically, Martin, Hardee and Church all went-back-to-back-to-back. And the Pioneers did all of this damage against the ace of the Rockets staff, Tyler Pressley, who coughed up six earned runs on eight hits with four walks and a hit batsman in 3 2/3 innings of work. Pressley also suffered his first loss on the year.

On the other hand, Jon Sharpe, who was complaining of a sore arm last week, looked strong as the right-hander wriggled off the hook a couple of times, and notched his sixth win of the year.

Shape gave up three runs, two earned on seven hits in six innings of work. Hardee mopped up in the seventh.

The Pioneers, who maintain their grip on first place in the NW4A, have now scored 29 runs on 29 hits in their last two games, including eight home runs. The freshman, David Martin, blasted his third home run of the year, a solo shot in the seventh. The Pioneers travel to East Burke on Friday night. Hardee (3-1) goes for WHS; Corey Rhoney goes for East Burke; our coverage begins at 6:05 pm on 100.7, MAC-FM.

In other games last night: South Caldwell smashed Freedom, 16-5; and McDowell rallied to beat East Burke, 6-3. The WHS JV team (10-3-1; 7-2-1 NW4A) beat ACR, 8-2.

The Appalachian State baseball team keeps rolling along. The Apps (22-17) have won 13 of their last 15 games. They rallied for four runs in the eighth inning last night and beat North Carolina A&T 9-6 at Smith Stadium/Beaver Field. Will Helms threw a perfect eighth inning and picked up his first career win. Jason Wallace had two hits and drove in three runs; Rand Smith was 0-5 with a run scored, which ended his school-record 27-game hitting streak. The Apps travel to High Point tonight for a 6 pm game.

High Point beat Wake Forest 12-5 last night. No radio coverage for today's game. Our next
