

Hiatt Named NCAA Division II Athlete Of Week

Written by Staff Reports

Tuesday, 24 December 2013 05:45

---

Lenoir-Rhyne University's Jordan Hiatt has been selected as the NCAA Division II Athlete Of The Week By Women Play Ball.

Hiatt, a sophomore guard from Mount Airy, N.C., averaged 11.5 points and 6.0 rebounds last week in leading L-R to pair of wins over Lander (75-54) and seventh-ranked Clayton State (73-66) on Friday and Saturday, respectively, at the Heritage Bank Holiday Classic in Morrow, Ga.

In the upset victory over the Lakers on their home court, Hiatt tallied 17 points and five rebounds to go along with three treys.

Hiatt, a member of the 2012-13 South Atlantic Conference All-Freshman Team, averages 7.1 points and 4.6 rebounds so far this year for the Bears.

Lenoir-Rhyne (7-3, 2-3) returns to action on Saturday, January 4, against Lincoln Memorial (4-5, 3-2) in a South Atlantic Conference game in Harrogate, Tenn., beginning at 6:00 p.m.

Lenoir-Rhyne faces Wingate in its next home contest on Wednesday, January 8, at 6:00 p.m., in a league affair at Shuford Memorial Gymnasium.

Women Play Ball is a online sporting news site dedicated to women in sports ranging from college to professional sports. This digital sports magazine focuses on the hard-work and passion women bring to the world of sports. It also specializes in bringing out the confidence in the athlete and making them champions at their game.

Photo Courtesy: Jordan Hiatt, L-R Athletics