Appalachian State University women's soccer head coach Sarah Strickland released the schedule for the 2014 spring season on Wednesday. The Mountaineers will have four matches scheduled, including one weekend doubleheader.

Appalachian begins its spring slate with a home match on March 22, beginning with a 10 a.m. kickoff against Mars Hill at Appalachian Soccer Stadium.

Following the matchup with Mars Hill, the Mountaineers will compete at the Winston-Salem Showcase on April 6 at BB&T Park in Winston-Salem, N.C. The Apps will take on Charlotte at 12:30 p.m. followed by High Point at 2 p.m.

The Mountaineers will return home for the last match of the spring on April 16 when they face Lenoir-Rhyne at 7:30 p.m. at Appalachian Soccer Stadium.

Coach Strickland's team is coming off of an eight-win season to close out play in the Southern Conference before the squad's inaugural season in the Sun Belt Conference beginning in the fall of 2014.
